Laboratory Manual: The manual is available in the bookstore.

Meeting Place: Science Building 105 Note: No food or drinks are allowed in the laboratory, including bottles and cups with lids.

Laboratory homework: A laboratory homework will be assigned each week. It will be turned in the following week at the beginning of the laboratory period. It is late after the beginning of the laboratory period and late laboratory homework will not be accepted. The laboratory homework will count as 30% of your laboratory grade.

Participation: Coming to class on time, not leaving early and being "on-task" when you are in the lab counts as part of your participation grade. Also, working the pre-lab sheets and participation in departmental assessment, which may include a general pre-test, post-test or other surveys, will count toward your participation grade. For all of these things, you will get full credit, if you do them, such as filling out the pre-lab sheets, any surveys or pre- or post-tests administered, and points will be subtracted from your participation grade, if you do not do them. They will not be graded, except for completion. However, if they are not completed or are not taken seriously, you will have points taken off.

Obviously attendance is the most important part of participation. If you aren't here, you can't participate. Absences will be excused for university events, illness (documentation may be required), funerals (documentation may be required and excuses for funerals are at Dr. West's discretion), court appearances (plaintiff, defendant, witness, juror, documentation IS required). Occasionally something so out of the ordinary occurs that you may feel should be grounds for being excused. Please see Dr. West if you feel you have extenuating circumstances. Excuses for extenuating circumstances are at Dr. West's discretion. (Note that long weekends or family trips do not count as extenuating circumstances.)

Students more than 20 minutes late without a valid reason will receive a 5% deduction in their participation grade. Each unexcused absence will result in a 10% deduction in your participation grade.

After attendance, conducting the investigation, taking part in class discussions, and group work in recitation are the most important parts of participation. If you do these things, you should be fine. Participation points will be lost if you socialize, play with lab equipment, fail to take part in group work, or are otherwise not on task. Cell phone usage or other violations of the lab rules that result in a student being dismissed will carry a 10% reduction in the participation grade.

Participation will count as 25% of your grade.

Laboratory experiments: The laboratory experiments are as listed in the laboratory manual, except that they may not always be worked in the same order as in the manual. Every effort will be made to keep the lab topic the same as is being covered in lecture that week or was covered in lecture the previous week, but please keep in mind that it will not always be possible to do so. New labs are being implemented this semester, so the schedule presented below is very tentative and is subject to change with little notice. As a result, it is possible that an additional laboratory or two may be added or replaced. Performing the experiment will count as 45% of your grade.

Tentative list of laboratory experiments:

Any student who, because of a disability, may require special arrangements in order to meet the course requirements should contact the instructor as soon as possible to make any necessary arrangements. Students should present appropriate verification from Student Disability Services during the instructor's office hours. Please note instructors are not allowed to provide classroom accommodations to a student until appropriate verification from Student Disability Services has been provided. For additional information, you may contact the Student Disability Services office in 335 West Hall or 806-742-2405.
