

Visiting Assistant Professor
Department of Physics
Texas Tech University

The Department of Physics at Texas Tech University invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position. This position is for 1 – 1.5 years and possibly renewable, beginning January 2010 and continuing at least through Summer 2011. Duties will include teaching introductory astronomy, coordinating astronomy labs and organizing observation sessions at the Skyview Observatory. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Astronomy or Physics. Experience in teaching introductory level courses is desirable. The selected candidate will also be encouraged to participate in departmental research and outreach. Current information on teaching, research and other activities in the department can be found at <http://www.phys.ttu.edu>

Applications should include a CV, a statement of teaching experience and interest, as well as research interests, a list of publications, and names of three professional references. They should be mailed or E-mailed (pdf format preferred) to Ms. Joyce Norton, (joyce.norton@ttu.edu), Texas Tech University, Department of Physics, Lubbock, TX 79409, Fax: 806-742-1182; phone: 806-742-3767.

Review of applications will begin immediately, and the search will continue until the position is filled. We encourage applications from individuals of diverse backgrounds.

Texas Tech is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity and the diversity of its workforce.