I am currently doing post-doc research but looking for a job when my contract ends and I found your posting. I have had a year (3 semesters, with the summer term) of teaching experience in Physics as an adjunct and several more years of tutoring and running undergraduate labs. I have some ideas for research that are detailed in my research statement. I do not currently have external funding as I am obliged to focus on the research for my post-doc.

My current contract runs until December 31, so if offered a position I can start 4-6 weeks after offer, if desired.

Regards,

Alexander Henderson
